Win a trip to San Diego

The 2019 Esri Young Scholars Award gives you the chance to showcase your work to 16,000 GIS professionals at the world's largest spatial event.

If you're an undergraduate or graduate student at an Australian university majoring in a geospatial science discipline, enter now by submitting a project, software development, application or research paper that leverages Esri GIS technology.

But hurry, the competition closes 31 March 2019

Win:

- ▶ An all-expenses paid* trip to San Diego to attend the 2019 Esri International User Conference.
- ▶ A chance to meet Jack Dangermond -the founder and president of Esri -and other Young Scholars Award recipients from around the world.
